Our safety chain

With our Protectas Technology range, your security system is much more than just an installed device

Your system relies on an encrypted connection with our remote monitoring centres, where our teams process alarms with the utmost speed and efficiency.

In the event of an alarm on your system, our control units can carry out a 24/7 investigation and, if necessary, trigger an on-site intervention.

The result is an optimum level of security that unites people and technology and is based on 40 years' experience in Switzerland.
